HEMEROCALLIS

(DAYLILIES)

"The Perennial that needs no coddling"

Space limitations do not allow us to give as complete a description of each Daylily as we should like to do.

All of them are beautiful but vary one from the other in shade, color or combinations of shades and colors, as well as in shape, size of flowers, substance, degree of fragrance, lasting qualities, height of flower stalk, etc. Some of the descriptions, because of brevity, may seem very similar and therefore confusing, but with the possible exception of some of the older varieties, each Daylily is quite distinct from any of the others.

As our collection comprises about 300 varieties of Hemerocallis, of which only about half are listed here, we welcome inquiries for such others as may be of interest to you.

Where known, the name of the originator follows the name of the variety. The capital letters next following indicate blooming seasons—E.—Early, ES.—Early Summer S.—Summer, LS.—Late Summer, F.—Fall.
